Dear Sir/ Madam

I hope this e-mail finds you well and happy!.

First, let me introduce myself to you. My name is Ahmed Khasawneh, I am a Professor of Computer Information Systems at Hashemite University in Jordan. Hashemite University was established in 1995 as a public university. It is categorized as one of major Universities in the fields of education, scientific research and community services. Hashemite University is one of the leading universities that participated in many capacity building, higher education and smart educational programs. It consists of scientific, medical, science, information technology, arts and humanities collages. Those collages offer various academic programs such as masters and doctorate alongside undergraduate programs. On the other side, Hashemite University provides capacities needed by instructors and students in the teaching process. In addition, it offers research tools for researchers. The university has more than 1500 employees, where at least 700 are faculty members.

Based on the invitation e-mail received from Erasmus office in Jordan, I would like to express our interest in cooperation with your organization, however, at this moment; we would like to join a consortium to which we can bring our/your expertise: Since you are considering applying for the mentioned call?

Please note that we are the most experienced partner in the Jordan, we are open and happy to join for cooperation!

Also, we have several success stories in Tempus, FP7 and Erasmus+ BHE, ICM and Jean Monnet projects.

I am working with a team who have expertise in ICT related projects including blended learning technology, smart e-learning higher education, quality assurance, renewable energy, cyber security, special education, counselling, health informatics, and entrepreneurship.

Accordingly, we wish to inform you that we are interested to join projects initiated by your organization that are related to those areas. If you are fine with that, we can open more discussion with you about future steps and sign any mandate.

We look forward to hearing from you so we can arrange to take the next steps and hope, that this email will be a start ignition for a productive cooperation in a near future!

 Regards
